Guide to do business in

CENTRAL AFRICAN REPUBLIC

Chandrawat & Partners

The Central African Republic is a landlocked Central African Republic. It is bounded to the north by Chad, to the northeast by Sudan, to the east by South Sudan, to the south by the Democratic Republic of Congo, to the southwest by the Republic of Congo, and to the west by Cameroon, The Central African Republic Republic has a population of around 5 million people, and it's capital and largest city is Bangui. The nation is recognized for its diverse biodiversity and diverse wildlife, which include elephants, gorillas, and chimpanzees. The Central African Republic's economy is mostly dependent on agriculture, with cash crops such as cotton, coffee, and tobacco serving as key exports. The nation also contains large mineral deposits, including uranium, gold, and diamonds.

ADVANTAGES

Natural Resource

The Central African Republic is rich in natural resources such as uranium, gold, diamonds, timber, and oil, this opens up possibilities for investment and economic progress.

Agriculture

The Central African Republic has Excellent soils and a good environment for agriculture, with cash crops such as cotton, coffee, and tobacco being key exports.

Biodiversity

The nation has a rich cultural legacy and diverse biodiversity, including gorillas, chimpanzees, and elephants, which might attract tourists and produce income for the country.

Industry

The Central African Republic Demands International investment in a variety of industries, including infrastructure, mining, and agriculture, This creates an opportunity for investors.

www.chandrawatpartners.com Page-1

SIMPLE TAX REGIME

Personal income tax

People with a tax domicile in the Central African Republic with worldwide income. An individual is regarded to have his or her tax residence in the Central African Republic if he or she satisfies one of the following conditions:

- He has a primary residence in the Central African Republic as an owner, usufructuary, or lessee.
- He has the Central African Republic as his primary residence even though he has no permanent residence.
- His primary professional and commercial location is CAR.
- His earnings are derived through CAR.

Net Chargeable Income Tax rate

- There is no tax to pay on earnings between XAF 0 and XAF 378,000.
- The tax rate for income between XAF 378,001 and XAF 1,680,000 is 8%.
- The tax rate for income between XAF 1.680.001 and XAF 3.360.000 is 15%.
- The tax rate for income between XAF 3,360,001 and XAF 5,040,000 is 28%.
- The tax rate is 40% of the income exceeding XAF 5,040,000.

Corporate Tax

Corporate tax rates in the Central African Republic are normally 30% for all companies, with a certain exception for Specialised sectors such as agriculture, A special corporation tax rate of 20% is available for agricultural-related companies.

The tax regime for companies in the Central African Republic depends on their turnover scale. For companies with a turnover between 30 and 100 million XAF, the Simplified Actual Regime applies, and they must pay their corporate income tax (CIT) in two equal installments by March 15th and September 15th each year. The first installment is determined based on the tax from two years prior and must be regularized by June 15th at the latest. For companies with a turnover of more than 100 million XAF, the Actual Normal Regime applies, and they must pay their CIT in three equal installments by February 15th, June 15th, and October 15th each year, with the first installment, determined based on the tax from two years prior.

Value-added Tax

The general VAT tax rate is 19% applied to most goods and services, but there may be a reduced rate of 5% for certain essential goods that are listed as first needs items. Additionally, for goods that are exported and declared to the customs office, as well as for international transportation services, a zero rate of 0% may be applied.

Excise duty

Alcoholic beverages, cigarettes and tobacco, perfumes and cosmetics, and precious stones are all subject to a 25% excise charge in the Central African Republic. Non-alcoholic beverages produced in the country are free from the 10% excise charge levied on imported competitors.

www.chandrawatpartners.com Page- 2

CENTRAL AFRICAN REPUBLIC COMPANIES

There are several ways of doing business in the Central African Republic, Businessmen have an option of establishing public limited companies, etc. Foreign legal entities may also set up a branch office or Representative office in the Central African Republic.

Sole proprietorship

A sole proprietorship is a business held by a single individual. From a legal perspective, the firm and its owner are regarded as synonymous. On the positive side, this implies that all gains are the owner's property (after taxes are paid, of course). On the negative side, the owner is personally liable for the firm's losses and obligations

Partnership

A partnership is a legal form of business where two or more individuals share management and profits. A binding partnership agreement, known as a partnership deed, outlines the rights and responsibilities of all parties to the business. The Cameroon government recognizes general and limited partnerships, with general partnerships having the partners manage the company and assume responsibility for its debts and obligations.

Private Limited Company

A private limited company in French S.A.R.L. is a type of company that provides limited liability to its shareholders, protecting them legally. However, there are certain ownership restrictions, including the need to offer shares to existing shareholders before selling or transferring them, not offering shares to the public over a stock exchange, and limiting the number of shareholders to a fixed number, typically 50.

Public Limited Company

A public limited company (PLC) allows securities to be traded on the stock exchange and can be bought and sold by anyone. They are strictly regulated and required by law to publish their complete and true financial records. PLCs are also known as publicly held companies and are formed by filing articles of association that describe their purpose, membership, and capital. PLCs grant limited liability to shareholders and allow businesses to sell shares to investors to raise capital.

Branch company

A branch of a company can be set up by a natural person or a body corporate. Its legal personality is directly linked to that of the natural person or body corporate that sets it up. It can be created by either a domestic company or a foreign company.

www.chandrawatpartners.com Page- 3

SERVING CLIENTS WORLDWIDE

The information contained herein is of a general nature. Although we endeavor to provide accurate and timely information, there can be no guarantee that such information is accurate as of the date it is received or that it will continue to be accurate in the future. The information is not offered as an advice on any matter, and no one should act or fail to act based on such information without appropriate legal advice after a thorough examination of the particular situation. The information does not make us responsible or liable for any errors and/or omissions, whether it is now or in the future. We do not assume any responsibility and/or liability for any consequences.

Key Contact

Surendra Singh Chandrawat

Managing Partner

Connect Surendra on

Linked in

WhatsApp

Chandrawat & Partners is a leading and rapidly growing full-service firm providing high quality professional and corporate services to foreign and local clients, representing companies and individuals in a wide range of sectors through separate entities established in various countries worldwide.

Copyright © 2025 I All rights reserved I Chandrawat & Partners I Email: enquiries@chandrawatpartners.com I Website: www.chandrawatpartners.com

